

PC Matic Activation Limit Error? Fix It

The “maximum number of activations reached” error in PC Matic occurs when your license has already been used on all allowed devices. ☐ ⚡ +1 -888-754-6002 To fix it, log into your PC Matic account, remove an unused device from your account dashboard, and then activate the software again on your current device.

🔄 When Your License Suddenly Stops Working

You install PC Matic on a new computer, enter your credentials... and then:

👉 “Maximum number of activations reached”

It feels like your license has stopped working—but that’s not actually the case.

What’s happening is simple:

Your subscription has a device limit, and PC Matic is enforcing it.

The good news? 📞 ⭐ +1-(866)-490-0338] You can fix this in minutes without buying a new license.

🧠 What This Error Really Means

PC Matic subscriptions are tied to a fixed number of devices.

For example:

Subscription Plan	Devices Allowed
-------------------	-----------------

-----	-----
-------	-------

Basic Plan	1 device
------------	----------

Home Plan	3–5 devices
-----------	-------------

Multi-Device Plan	5+ devices

👉 When you exceed this limit, activation on new devices is blocked.

🔍 Why This Error Happens

Most users don't realize how quickly device slots get used.

Common reasons include:

- * Installing PC Matic on multiple devices
- * Reinstalling counts as a new activation
- * Old or unused devices still linked
- * Switching computers without removing old ones
- * Sharing license with family

👉 The system counts all active installations—not just current ones.
